

• Name: Mark Harris Yazer

• Current Position:

- Professor of Pathology, University of Pittsburgh
- Adjunct Professor of Pathology, Tel Aviv University
- Adjunct Professor of Clinical Immunology, University of Southern Denmark

• Educational Background:

2004	Residency	The University of Alberta
2000	MD	The University of Ottawa

• Professional Experience:

He has published over 220 peer reviewed papers, and is an associate editor of the journals Transfusion Medicine, and Hematology. He is on the editorial board of 4 other journals.

He is the past chairman of the AABB's molecular testing standards unit, and the co-chairman of the AABB/THOR working group. He is a steering committee member of THOR.

He has received grant funding from the American National Institutes of Health, the American Department of Defense, and the American military based DARPA group. He is currently a co-principle investigator of NIH R01 and R34 grants and is a collaborator on two Department of Defense grants.

He is on the scientific advisory/speakers board of 8 corporations, and he has given more than 250 lectures on his research worldwide. His research interests include blood utilization in trauma resuscitation, patient blood management, and electronic enhancements for patient safety.

